Applicant's election of the species of Figs. 17A-17C, with direct attachment of fan as shown in Fig. 2 is acknowledged. Applicant's traversals in the responses filed contest the manner in which the election requirement was set forth, and were detailed in the petition filed November 6, 2003. During telephone conferences with the applicant's representative, the Examiner pointed out that requiring the election of a single feature (fin design, fan attachment option) from two groups nevertheless effectively results in the selection of a single species, that being a heat sink/fan combination employing one option from each group, much like different number and letter combinations out of all possible permutations¹.

Claims 5-8, 12-14, 18-20, 23, and 24 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim, the requirement having been properly traversed to preserve applicant's right to petition the requirement.

The action on the merits that follows is presumed to provide the relief requested in applicant's petition filed 11/06/2003.

¹ If the invention constituted a combination of a letter and a number, requiring the applicant to select one letter (A, B, C, etc.) and one number (1, 2, 3, etc.) results in a single, unique alphanumeric species (3F, 5D, for example). The Examiner could thus have laboriously listed each possible permutation, 1A, 1B, 1C, 1D . . . 9Y, 9Z, and asked applicant to select one permutation, but the end result is the same; the election of a single species. Claims drawn to the letter or the number only would thus be generic to several species, since claims typically employ the word "comprising" so as to permit the presence of additional elements.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kuo.

See the embodiments of Figs. 4-6 and 14-16, with angled fins separated into groups. Note that the “form mounting of the heat sink . . . with a clip” language is not deemed to positively recite a clip combined with a heat sink, but merely requires a separation between groups that would permit the use of an attachment clip; clearly, such a clip could be employed in the Figs. 4-6 embodiment of Kuo, at least.

Claims 1-4, 15-17, 21, and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Azar.

Please see the Figs. 9-11 embodiment of Azar; note the discussion of the function of the protrusions 962 to maintain spacing w between adjacent cooling wings 960 given in the middle of column 8. Note also in regard to claim

Art Unit: 3753

3 and others that corresponding dimples and recesses 963, 964 that interfit are provided on the base portion 950.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kuo.

The Examiner hereby takes Official Notice that the use of fans in combination with air-cooled, finned heat sinks to provide forced convection for enhanced cooling efficiency is of such notorious character in the art that citation of a reference to such effect is not considered necessary. In re Malcolm, 54 U.S.P.Q. 235.

Claims 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Azar.

The Examiner hereby takes Official Notice that the use of fans in combination with air-cooled, finned heat sinks to provide forced convection for enhanced cooling efficiency is of such notorious character in the art that citation of a reference to such effect is not considered necessary. In re Malcolm, 54 U.S.P.Q. 235.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Ozeki and Lu teach the use of interfitting protrusions and depressions to maintain alignment in plate fin heat sinks.

Summary of Record of Interview Requirements

Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP), Section 713.04, Substance of Interview Must be Made of Record

A complete written statement as to the substance of any face-to-face, video conference, or telephone interview with regard to an application must be made of record in the application whether or not an agreement with the examiner was reached at the interview.

Title 37 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) § 1.133 Interviews

Paragraph (b)

In every instance where reconsideration is requested in view of an interview with an examiner, a complete written statement of the reasons presented at the interview as warranting favorable action must be filed by the applicant. An interview does not remove the necessity for reply to Office action as specified in §§ 1.111, 1.135. (35 U.S.C. 132)

37 CFR §1.2 Business to be transacted in writing.

All business with the Patent or Trademark Office should be transacted in writing. The personal attendance of applicants or their attorneys or agents at the Patent and Trademark Office is unnecessary. The action of the Patent and Trademark Office will be based exclusively on the written record in the Office. No attention will be paid to any alleged oral promise, stipulation, or understanding in relation to which there is disagreement or doubt.

The action of the Patent and Trademark Office cannot be based exclusively on the written record in the Office if that record is itself incomplete through the failure to record the substance of interviews.

It is the responsibility of the applicant or the attorney or agent to make the substance of an interview of record in the application file, unless the examiner indicates he or she will do so. It is the examiner's responsibility to see that such a record is made and to correct material inaccuracies which bear directly on the question of patentability.

Examiners must complete an Interview Summary Form for each interview held where a matter of substance has been discussed during the interview by checking the appropriate boxes and filling in the blanks. Discussions regarding only procedural matters, directed solely to restriction requirements for which interview recordation is otherwise provided for in Section 812.01 of the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, or pointing out typographical errors or unreadable script in Office actions or the like, are excluded from the interview recordation procedures below. Where the substance of an interview is completely recorded in an Examiners Amendment, no separate Interview Summary Record is required.

The Interview Summary Form shall be given an appropriate Paper No., placed in the right hand portion of the file, and listed on the "Contents" section of the file wrapper. In a personal interview, a duplicate of the Form is given to the applicant (or attorney or agent) at the conclusion of the interview. In the case of a telephone or video-conference interview, the copy is mailed to the applicant's correspondence address either with or prior to the next official communication. If additional correspondence from the examiner is not likely before an allowance or if other circumstances dictate, the Form should be mailed promptly after the interview rather than with the next official communication.

The Form provides for recordation of the following information:

- Application Number (Series Code and Serial Number)
- Name of applicant
- Name of examiner
- Date of interview
- Type of interview (telephonic, video-conference, or personal)
- Name of participant(s) (applicant, attorney or agent, examiner, other PTO personnel, etc.)
- An indication whether or not an exhibit was shown or a demonstration conducted
- An identification of the specific prior art discussed
- An indication whether an agreement was reached and if so, a description of the general nature of the agreement (may be by attachment of a copy of amendments or claims agreed as being allowable). Note: Agreement as to allowability is tentative and does not restrict further action by the examiner to the contrary.
- The signature of the examiner who conducted the interview (if Form is not an attachment to a signed Office action)

It is desirable that the examiner orally remind the applicant of his or her obligation to record the substance of the interview of each case. It should be noted, however, that the Interview Summary Form will not normally be considered a complete and proper recordation of the interview unless it includes, or is supplemented by the applicant or the examiner to include, all of the applicable items required below concerning the substance of the interview.

A complete and proper recordation of the substance of any interview should include at least the following applicable items:

- 1) A brief description of the nature of any exhibit shown or any demonstration conducted,
- 2) an identification of the claims discussed,
- 3) an identification of the specific prior art discussed,
- 4) an identification of the principal proposed amendments of a substantive nature discussed, unless these are already described on the Interview Summary Form completed by the Examiner,
- 5) a brief identification of the general thrust of the principal arguments presented to the examiner,
(The identification of arguments need not be lengthy or elaborate. A verbatim or highly detailed description of the arguments is not required. The identification of the arguments is sufficient if the general nature or thrust of the principal arguments made to the examiner can be understood in the context of the application file. Of course, the applicant may desire to emphasize and fully describe those arguments which he or she feels were or might be persuasive to the examiner.)
- 6) a general indication of any other pertinent matters discussed, and
- 7) if appropriate, the general results or outcome of the interview unless already described in the Interview Summary Form completed by the examiner.

Examiners are expected to carefully review the applicant's record of the substance of an interview. If the record is not complete and accurate, the examiner will give the applicant an extendable one month time period to correct the record.

Examiner to Check for Accuracy

If the claims are allowable for other reasons of record, the examiner should send a letter setting forth the examiner's version of the statement attributed to him or her. If the record is complete and accurate, the examiner should place the indication, "Interview Record OK" on the paper recording the substance of the interview along with the date and the examiner's initials.
